

Bring an AI support coach to every conversation you already have.

Your agents don't work in one place — they work in Gmail, Slack, WhatsApp, and your help desk. The C.A.R.E extension puts six AI tools right on the page they're already looking at: catch up on a thread, find the real problem, draft the reply, and grade it against the world's best communication books — without switching apps or copy-pasting anything.

● Summarize

Catch up on a long thread in one glance.

● Dissect

Surface the real problem under the message.

● Ask Coach

Grade a draft against the communication books.

● AI Co-Pilot

Draft the reply — and name the move it made.

● Formulate

Shape what you want to say into a clear reply.

● Spawn Task

Turn a conversation into a tracked task.

WATCH IT WORK — A REAL SUPPORT THREAD

CUSTOMER

"I've been charged $49 twice this month and emailed three days ago — still no reply. Can someone please sort this out?"

CO-PILOT I,

"Hi — I'm really sorry about the double charge, and about the wait on your earlier note. I can see both $49 charges on the 14th; I'm bringing in a teammate who can action the refund on your account right now."

The move it made: led with a specific acknowledgment and a concrete next step — not an apology template. That's tactical empathy (Never Split the Difference), and Co-Pilot names it so the agent learns it.

HOW IT WORKS

Live in under a minute.

No IT project, no data migration. Your agents keep their existing inbox — the tools come to them.

1

Install & sign in

Add the extension, click the icon, sign in with your C.A.R.E account. One click connects it.

2

Open any conversation

On an email, a Slack thread, a help-desk ticket — click "Read this conversation."

3

Run a tool

Summarize, draft, or coach the reply. Copy it in, send it — the agent stays in control.

Not another chatbot. A coach for your team.

- ✓ Grades against real books. Coach cites the actual communication masterworks — Never Split the Difference, Made to Stick, NVC — not generic "be nicer" tips.
- ✓ Never fabricates. If it can't read the thread, it says so and asks — it never invents details or promises you can't keep.
- ✓ Names the move. Co-Pilot doesn't just draft — it tells the agent which technique it used, so they get better every week.
- ✓ Nothing is stored. It processes the text you point it at to run the tool, then discards it. Your conversations stay yours.
